Dear Doctor Burleigh.

I was pleased hearing from you and do not think for a moment I consider anything I might be able to do to help you or any of our U.E.L. members is a trouble. I have been delving into books I have to find an answer to your question re. the Hudgins name. I have always considered the Hudgins of Pr. Ed. Co. were of Loyalist descent. I find a spelling Hudgens, William, Queen's Rangers. There were a lot 39 in Queensboro District in 1787. There another spelling I found is Hudgkin, Queen's Rangers, killed in battle. These two may be the same man. You of course know names were very often spelt in different ways. I find that in one of my ancestors Fraleigh, may be Fralick, Fraley. After some Loyalists settled first in the Maritimes finally coming up this way perhaps to Adolphus town.

I know certainly we had the Hudgins in P.E.I. Co.. but at the present I can find no more about the name but feel likely the Hudgins are Loyalist descent.
I believe there is a list of land grants to members of Queen's Rangers by Maxwell and a history of Central New Brunswick published in 1937 which I guess is fairly recent.

We do not know of any official lists of U.E.L.
settlers for Nova Scotia, New Brunswick or Quebec.

In New Brunswick there would be Land Grants or old cemetery reports or these might be found at Sorrell, Quebec - of 84th Regiment. I expect writing to the Chambers of Commerce might give results.

There are others of course.

Have you a copy of U.E.L. Centennial 1784-1884. It contains the most perfect list of U.E. Loyalists there is.

If I can locate a copy would you care to have it. Likely it would cost anything from $5. to $10. They are out of print now.

Old Marriage Certificate Reveals New Information

Pictou Gazette

13 August 1965

An item of interest in the window of the Curlette Beauty Shoppe is a marriage certificate issued 100 years ago last February in Newburg, Ont., to the grandparents of Mrs. Brock Hudgin. Although Mrs. Hudgin was born and raised in British Columbia, her grandparents on both the mother's and father's sides were U. E. Loyalists. A short while ago while looking through some old mementoes belonging to her mother, she came across this item, and until reading it she did not know her grandparents had come from a district so close to where she eventually settled. She did know that directly after the marriage they moved to New York and from there to California settling near San Jose. They then went north by boat to Vancouver settling in New Westminster where Mrs. Hudgin was born.

The license was for the marriage of Harket H. Williams and Mary E. Dafeo, 16 Feb., 1865, performed by George McRitchie of the Wesleyan Methodist Church. There was no "Ontario" then, the words 'Province of Canada' being used on the certificate.

ON HOLIDAYS

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lindensmith and Brian, Oshawa, are spending holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hedley Ostrander, 80 Main Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Bobby spent the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Wood. Bobby remained for a week's holidays.

Beverly and John Perry of East Lake, are spending holidays this week with their aunt, Mrs. Ken Ireland, Lori and Bradley, of Hamilton.

Dr. and Mrs. F. Weber and daughter of Toronto, are holidaying at the McNally cottages, East Lake, and visiting relatives in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McIntyre and Billy and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ward and family, all of Oakville, enjoyed a week of camping at the Outlet Provincial Park.

The rain on the week end was a most welcome one as crops were beginning to wilt.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cole and Brian are holidaying this week with relatives in Montreal. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lickers and son are staying with the rest of the family.

Miss Carol Foster spent several days last week with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Norton and Connie.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Taylor and Patty and Susan, Woodstock, while holidaying in the county called recently on Mr. and Mrs. Burton Norton.

On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Burton Norton and Connie were with Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hagerman and family renewing old acquaintances with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Park and girls of Atikokan, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. John Matthie, Craig and Barry and Mrs. Sherman McQuaid spent the supper hour with Mr. and Mrs. Leo McQuaid and family.

Sorry to hear of the unfortunate accident of Arthur Knight, grandson of Mrs. Herb Knight. Glad to hear he is improving a little each day. Arthur's grandfather, Mr. Isaac Wannamaker, is also a patient in Belleville hospital following a recent eye operation. Hope both Mr. and Mrs. Wannamaker keep improving more each day.

Mr. Phil Kellor, barber, is now barbering in Mr. Robt. McCoy's shop. Mr. McCoy will enter hospital for surgery in the near future.

Dear Relative:

In 1961 we undertook to compile the Hudgin History from considerable material gathered by my mother, Annie Hudgin Proctor, family 9; with some early assistance from school teacher Ada Lawder, family II.

Knowing of no other attempts to reconstruct our family tree, I have, with your approval, become the self-appointed genealogist of the Hudgin Family. The second edition is enclosed.

There are many gaps and, probably; many errors. It is hoped that, through wide distribution, many blanks will be filled and mistakes corrected. In this respect we ask your immediate assistance, no matter how slight. Perhaps, eventually, we may publish a printed Hudgin History.

Did you know that there is a Hudgin family crest? Mr. George A. Hudgin, family VIII, is presently reconstructing same.

Not every relative will receive a copy of the enclosed, probably because we do not have all addresses. If you know of any relatives who would be interested in a copy, please let me know.

You will note that some anecdotes and sidelights are included in this edition. We will need many more of these to add interest to the Hudgin record. Perhaps you can recall some story or incident passed down through the family. Write them out and send them in.

We are presently assembling a Hudgin Scrap Book. We have mounted many old photographs and clippings and would welcome any of your family that you can spare. Obituary notices, old letters, photographs would be most welcome. Eventually this scrap book would be turned over to the Historical Society. If your children are not already interested in their family history, would suggest that an interest and pride in our ancestors be stimulated so that succeeding generations will not lose sight of our U.E.L. traditions.

Please forward any data, information, stories, records or comments to

Dear Dr. Burlingh :

Because of distance I will not find it possible to attend the N.E.L. meeting on March 2. Am sorry as I am particularly interested in your topic.

Would it be possible to obtain your basic notes, after the meeting, which I could photo-copy and return to you.

You may recall me as compiling a Hodgkin history. Am most grateful for the assistance you lent me in this respect in 1961. Am presently working on a revised record and will mail you a copy when completed about Easter.

I have gathered together a fairly large file on the Rose family, which was rather accumulated. My grandmother was Amanda Rose. I have a feeling that the Rose family record has been compiled and, if so, would you enlighten me.

Sincerely,
C. Fractor

Mr. C. L. Proctor,
Willowdale, Ont.

Dear Mr. Proctor:

Thank you for your recent letter and your schematic representation of the Hudgins family. I shall put it with other papers in my Hudgins file. I seem to be adding more and more to my eight hundred Loyalist files. And your addition has been most welcome.

As you will note, I am enclosing some Hudgins notes which, I trust, will add to your knowledge, and at the same time whet your appetite for more research.

There are several ways of completing a genealogy. The British, and some Canadian, genealogists use the following pattern:

George Arthur Doe, the progenitor of our family, da da da etc etc issue:

1. George
2. William (of whom below)
3. Frederick.

1. Angeline, who married Richard Roe, of Alacazan, and had children:

1. Frederick
2. Thomas.
1. Mary.
2. Evelyn.

2. Elizabeth, died young.

William (see above), of Bath, born -----; died -----; married -----

Issue:

1. etc.

American genealogists use a more explanatory system. It involves giving each person a number. In addition, each generation is so indicated, including the addition of the name of each ancestor, back to the beginning. I shall outline the method, as:

1. George Doe, of the parish of Tottenham, England, son of ----- and -----, born -----, Emigrated to America in 1635, and became a freeman of ----. Name of wife unknown. His will dated -----, probated----- lists his children:
 2. George.
 3. Emma.
 4. Charles.
 5. Etc.
2. George (George 1), born in -----, on such a date; married -----; died ----. Etc. Children:
 6. Charles.
 7. Emma.
 8. George.
6. Charles, ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~ (George 2, George 1)
 9. Henry.
 10. Emma.
 11. Elizabeth.
 12. Charles.
9. Henry (Charles 3, George 2, George 1).

As you can see, this system helps one to locate any person by number, as well as ancestry. The addition of an X before a number indicates that that person left descendants and that they are included in the genealogy.

The use of schematic plans, as you did, is a great help, and, I feel, might well be interspersed through out a genealogy. They are easily understood by an amateur, whereas it is often difficult to follow an ancestral line. At the same time this plan does not allow for the addition of a great deal of very interesting details which one wishes to add.

Another very difficult method has been used. It involves a method of recessing generations, each one by, lets say, five spaces. Here is how it works:

George Doe, etc., etc. children
  William, etc., etc. Children:
    Henry, etc., etc. Children:
      George
      Thomas
      Anne
      James

      George, etc., etc. children
        George
        Jane

    William, etc., etc. children
      Albert
      Henry
      Peter

  Henry, etc., etc. children:
    Maud.
    Arthur.
    Henry

I am sure that you can see the difficulty of interpretation of this system. It means the carrying of a rule to determine the generations. It is also very prone to the inclusion of errors, both on the part of the writer, but also on the part of the reader. I do not recommend this method.

I can recommend a great deal of patience. You will find that many members of the family, because of one thing or another, will fail to reply to your queries. Besides patience, one needs interest and persistence. If these three qualities are in full measure, you will be able to come up with a satisfactory genealogy.

If I can be of help, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte (cont'd).

Edward Ackerman, born May 2, 1763, was a close friend of William Hudgin, a noted Loyalist, who in the Revolution and again in the War of 1812 played a noble part. These two, while in Kingston, worked together at shoemaking, a business which allows scope for much conversation; and the old campaigner seems to have made of Edward a friend for life. At a later date, the latter was the go-between when Hudgin wished to correspond with a friend in New York city, and vice versa. In his wagon, a self-constituted rural postman, he conveyed the letters of these friends between South Marysburgh and New York city.

LOUIS HUDGIN (Virginia, U.S.A.)
(buried on Gwynn's Island, Chesapeake Bay)

WILLIAM (U.E.L.)

JOHN
(killed in War of American Independence)
WAITE
(wounded in throat
buried at South Bay)

On June 30, 1787, Private William Hudgin of the King's Rangers received a grant of 200 acres "B" 11', in York County, South Hampton Lot 39 on River Saint John above Mackawicka in New Brunswick. In 1793 fire destroyed most of the homes on the Saint John River. Evidently William rebuilt because all his children were born in New Brunswick except the eldest, William Jr., who had been born in Virginia. William came to Upper Canada and was granted land north of York (Toronto) but, because it was not on water (like his earlier home on Chesapeake Bay and the Saint John River), exchanged it for farming property in Prince Edward County at South Bay. Like the Mouck and Rose properties adjoining, it was 300 acres stretching from South Bay to Lake Ontario. William is buried under a tree near the bay on Captain Nelson Hudgin farm.

William had a family of eight as follows:

I William Jr. m. 1 Hester Wright m. 2 Esther Johnstone Marr	II James (75) 1786-1861 m Phoebe Harrison	III David m Phoebe Harrison	IV Nelson	V Hannah (Nixon)	VI Moses	VII Ezekial (77) 1804-1881 m Patience McKim	VIII Amos 1805 m Deborah Hilborn
---	---	--------------------------------	-----------	---------------------	----------	---	--

Family I (William Jr. and Family VII (Ezekial) are fairly complete. A start has been made on the other six families. William Jr. was twice-married. His first wife, Hester Wright, died leaving him with a family of six as follows:

- | | | | | | |
|-----------------------|-----------------------------|-----------------------|------------------------|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| 1 Harriet
(Banker) | 2 Eliza
(Philip Dulmage) | 3 Ann
(Saul Mouck) | 4 Moses
m Ann Mouck | 5 John
m Ellen Hicks | 6 Aaron
(died Young) |
|-----------------------|-----------------------------|-----------------------|------------------------|-------------------------|-------------------------|

(the tables for William's first family of six will be circulated when more information obtained)

Some interesting sidelights re William are recorded in a letter written by Annie MacLean (family 15) and reproduced here in part

"Grandmother Hudgin, whose name was Esther Johnstone, was born in the north of Ireland. Her mother's name was Gray and she claim to be able to trace her pedigree to Marquis Henry Gray of Dorset, England, father of Lady Jane Grey. We have only the memory of her story and did not value our historical background enough to remember important dates. We grandchildren knew her as a beautiful woman. Esther Johnstone's home was burned by Roman Catholics. While very young and in the homeland she married Mr. Marr. They decided to begin life a new country. Let us imagine the fond farewells, the earnest prayers, the final God Bless You and the last wave as they put out to sea on a voyage that might take six weeks or three months. When not far out, Mr. Marr was taken suddenly ill, dying after a few days. He buried at sea. We pause to imagine the awful experience for a bride of 17 to take up her cross and follow on.

The romance of her second marriage to William Hudgin, the writer is unable to relate. One thing is certain, she was a brave woman to marry a widower with six small children. She was a kind step-mother and they loved her...."

George A. Hudgin (family VIII) adds some information on William U.E.L. "At one time, William was paymaster in the British Army the War of Independence. Later, in action, attempting to avenge his brother John's death, he was wounded and his horse shot beneath him. He was imprisoned for 3 1/2 years. He was released on exchange and removed to New Brunswick."

Following his marriage to Esther Johnstone Marr, William raised a second family of eleven as follows:

7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17

William is mentioned in the book 'Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte' as follows:

"Edward Ackerman, born May 2, 1763, was a close friend of William Hudgin, a noted Loyalist, who, in the Revolution again in the War of 1812, played a noble part. These two, while at Kingston, worked together at shoe-making, a business that allows much scope for conversation; and the old campaigner seems to have made of Edward a friend for life. At a later date the latter was a go-betwe when Hudgin wished to correspond with a friend in New York City, and vice versa. In his wagon, a self-constituted rural postman, he conveyed the letters of these two friends between South Marysburgh and New York City."

One of these letters is still in the possession of the Hudgin family and reads as follows:

Dear William:

William McLaughlin
to William Hudgin

New York,
June 5, 1831.

I am at a loss for words to express the pleasing sensation I had on the receipt of your letter, for nothing affords me more pleasure than to find that you are well and doing well.

I was cut to see Simcoe about three years ago. I found him well and knocking away at the old farm as usual shores, even the spot where you and I have lain many a night during the season of salmon; but alas those days have passed away and never can return. At that time you and I knew but little of the troubles of this world. I find that you have had your misfortunes as well as myself. I was married in 1809 and in 1817 was so unfortunate as to lose my wife, leaving me with four small children to care for. I married again and in six years was left a widower again with the addition of three more children. I married again and thank God am tolerably good circumstances having by my industry accumulated a handsome little property in this city.

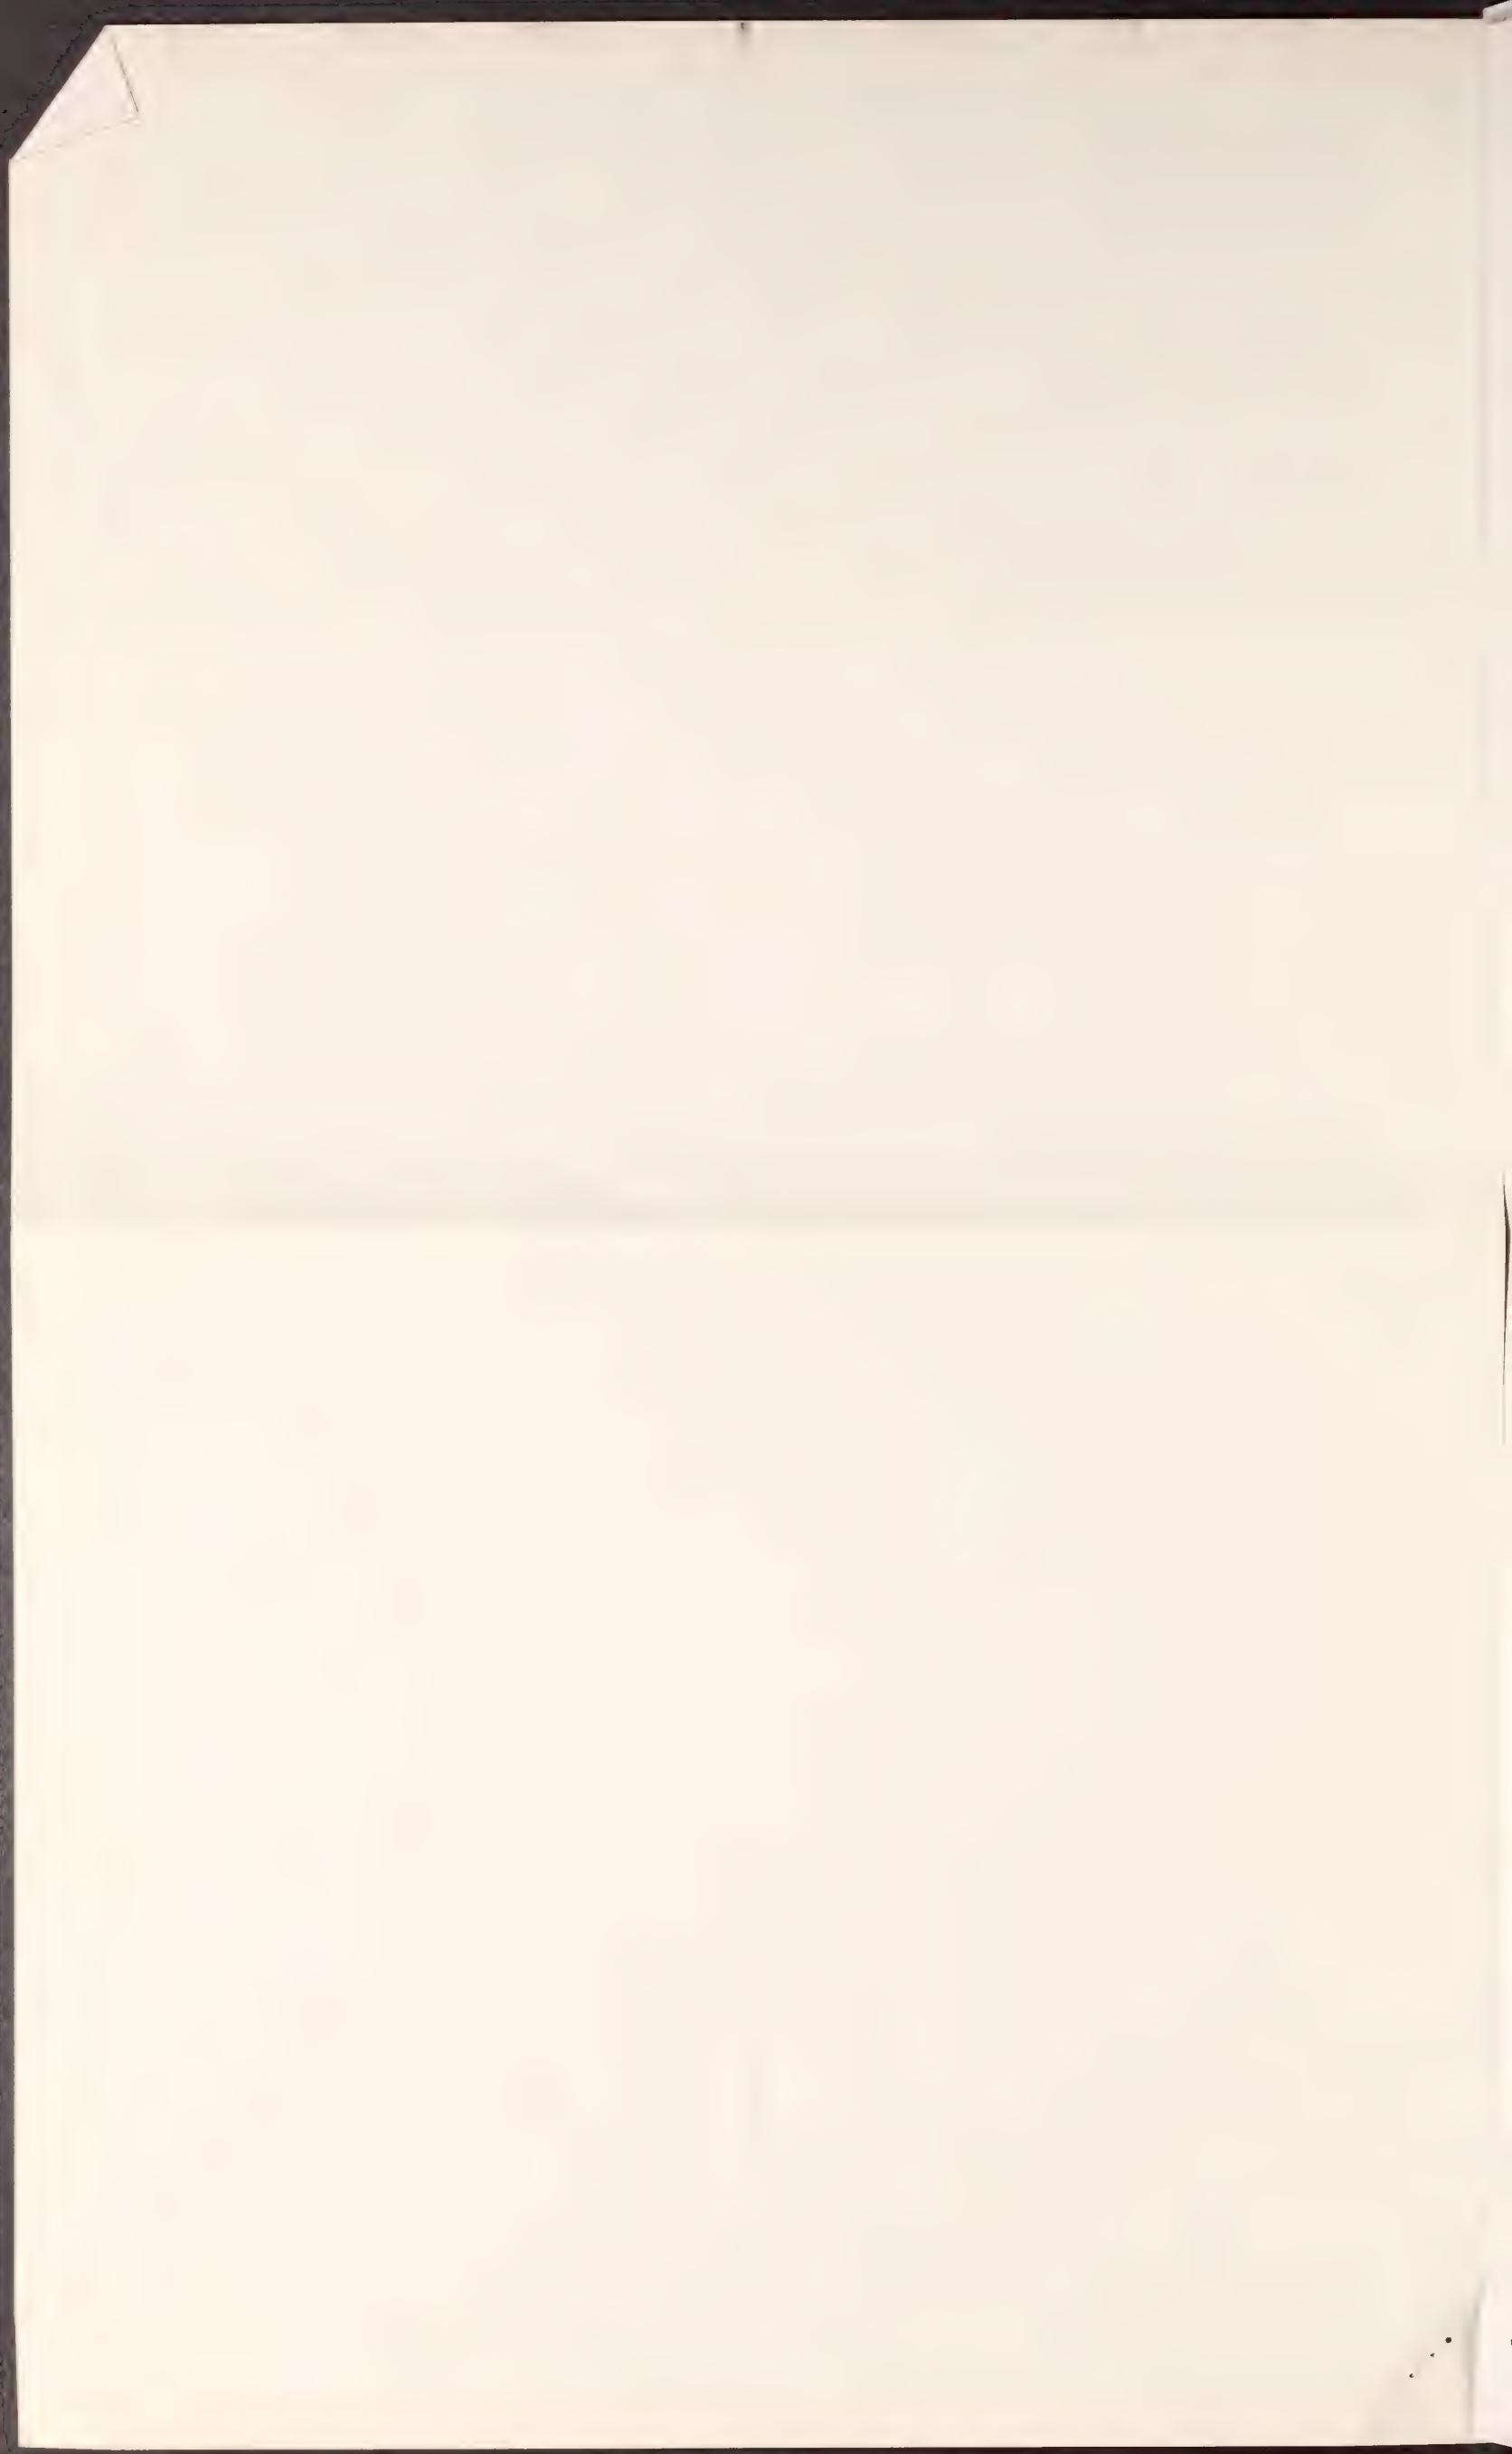

I feel much indebted to you for calling your eldest daughter after my dear deceased sister. She was a charming girl and beloved by all who knew her.

I wish I had more time to write you a lengthy letter but it is now past nine o'clock and Mr. Ackerman starts at ten o'clock, his departure being much sooner than I expected.

Be so good as to give my best respects to your brother James and family.

Wm. McLaughlin.

Three brothers of the above family, William Henry (7), James Louis (13) and George (15), died each leaving an only daughter. Actually James Louis died three months before his daughter was born. The remaining three brothers, Charles (9), Nelson (12) and Amos became fast friends, being drawn together more closely perhaps because of the unfortunate loss of their mothers.

FAMILY 8

Hannah Hudgin (67) 1833-1899
(Hugh MacDonald)
infant died

Hannah Hudgin MacDonald was a school teacher at Wolfe Island. After husband Hugh a her infant son died, she built a home bordering a park in Kingston at 303 Alfred St. Here she accepted and partly raised Annie Hudgin (MacLean), family 15, whose parents died young and also Rosamond Hudgin (Storey), family 9, whose mother, Amanda Rose, died when she was infant.

a letter written by Hannah MacDonald in 1898 to Annie Hudgin, family 9, is in the H gin Scrap Book. In one part of the letter Hannah offers some advice to Annie who is on the point of accepting a nursing position in Rochester. "I would not advise you to go without consulting your father and having his consent. You would feel happier if anything happened that you wanted to come home and it would be all right or if he should die while you were gone you would always be thankful there was no misunderstanding between you".

Notes

At this date, March 1966, Lina Tripp is 93, confined to a nursing home in Cherry Valley. In 1960 Clarence Tripp was so unfortunate as to lose his large home by fire.

Amos Hudgin became a well-known Hostein breeder. On retirement he turned the farm over to his nephew, Clement Proctor, who at the time was Superintendent of North York Hydro Com. Clement still maintains some electrical interests leaving much of the dairy-farming to son Peter.

There is no town the next day. Between the Indian
& the main town just 3 or 4 miles away from South Bay to Lake Umbagog. Off the lake, probably a town here have friends. Following from Columbia to which little was known but many have been a fine city.

The Longmont family
returned to New York City, a small place where and to the Hudson R.R. moved to South Bay. While working at that meeting in Edward Columbus, who also
is a regular in the Hudson River. That Edward is a man of the same story
and belongs to New York City and is engaged with him to work a letter to the old friend of the

I have just received a letter from your mother, and she has the pleasure to send you a very kind note. I am sure you will be glad to hear from her. I am very much
lovingly,
your father.

THE HUDGIN (U.E.L.) FAMILIES

LOUIS HUDGIN (Virginia, U.S.A.)
(buried on Gwynn's Island, Chesapeake Bay)

WILLIAM (U.E.L.)

JOHN
(killed in War of American Independence)

WAITE
(wounded in throat
buried at South Bay)

On June 30, 1787, Private William Hudgin of the King's Rangers received a grant of 200 acres "B" 11', in York County, Southampton, Lot 39 on River Saint John above Mackawicka in New Brunswick. In 1793 fire destroyed most of the homes on the Saint John River. Evidently William rebuilt because all his children were born in New Brunswick except the eldest, William Jr., who had been born in Virginia.

William came to Upper Canada and was granted land north of York (Toronto) but, because it was not on water (like his earlier homes on Chesapeake Bay and the Saint John River), exchanged it for farming property in Prince Edward County at South Bay. Like the Mouck and Rose properties adjoining, it was 300 acres stretching from South Bay to Lake Ontario. William is buried under a tree near the bay on the Captain Nelson Hudgin farm.

William had a family of eight as follows:

I William Jr. m. 1 Hester Wright m. 2 Esther Johnstone Marr	II James (75) 1786-1861 m Phoebe Harrison	III David m Phoebe Harrison	IV Nelson	V Hannah (Nixon)	VI Moses	VII Ezekial (77) 1804-1881 m Patience McKim	VIII Amos 1805 m Deborah Hilborn
Family I (William Jr.) and Family VII (Ezekial) are fairly complete. A start has been made on the other six families.

William Jr. was twice-married. His first wife, Hester Wright, died leaving him with a family of six as follows:

1 Harriet (Banker)	2 Eliza (Philip Dulmage)	3 Ann (Saul Mouck)	4 Moses m Ann Mouck	5 John m Ellen Hicks	6 Aaron (died Young)
-----------------------	-----------------------------	-----------------------	------------------------	-------------------------	-------------------------

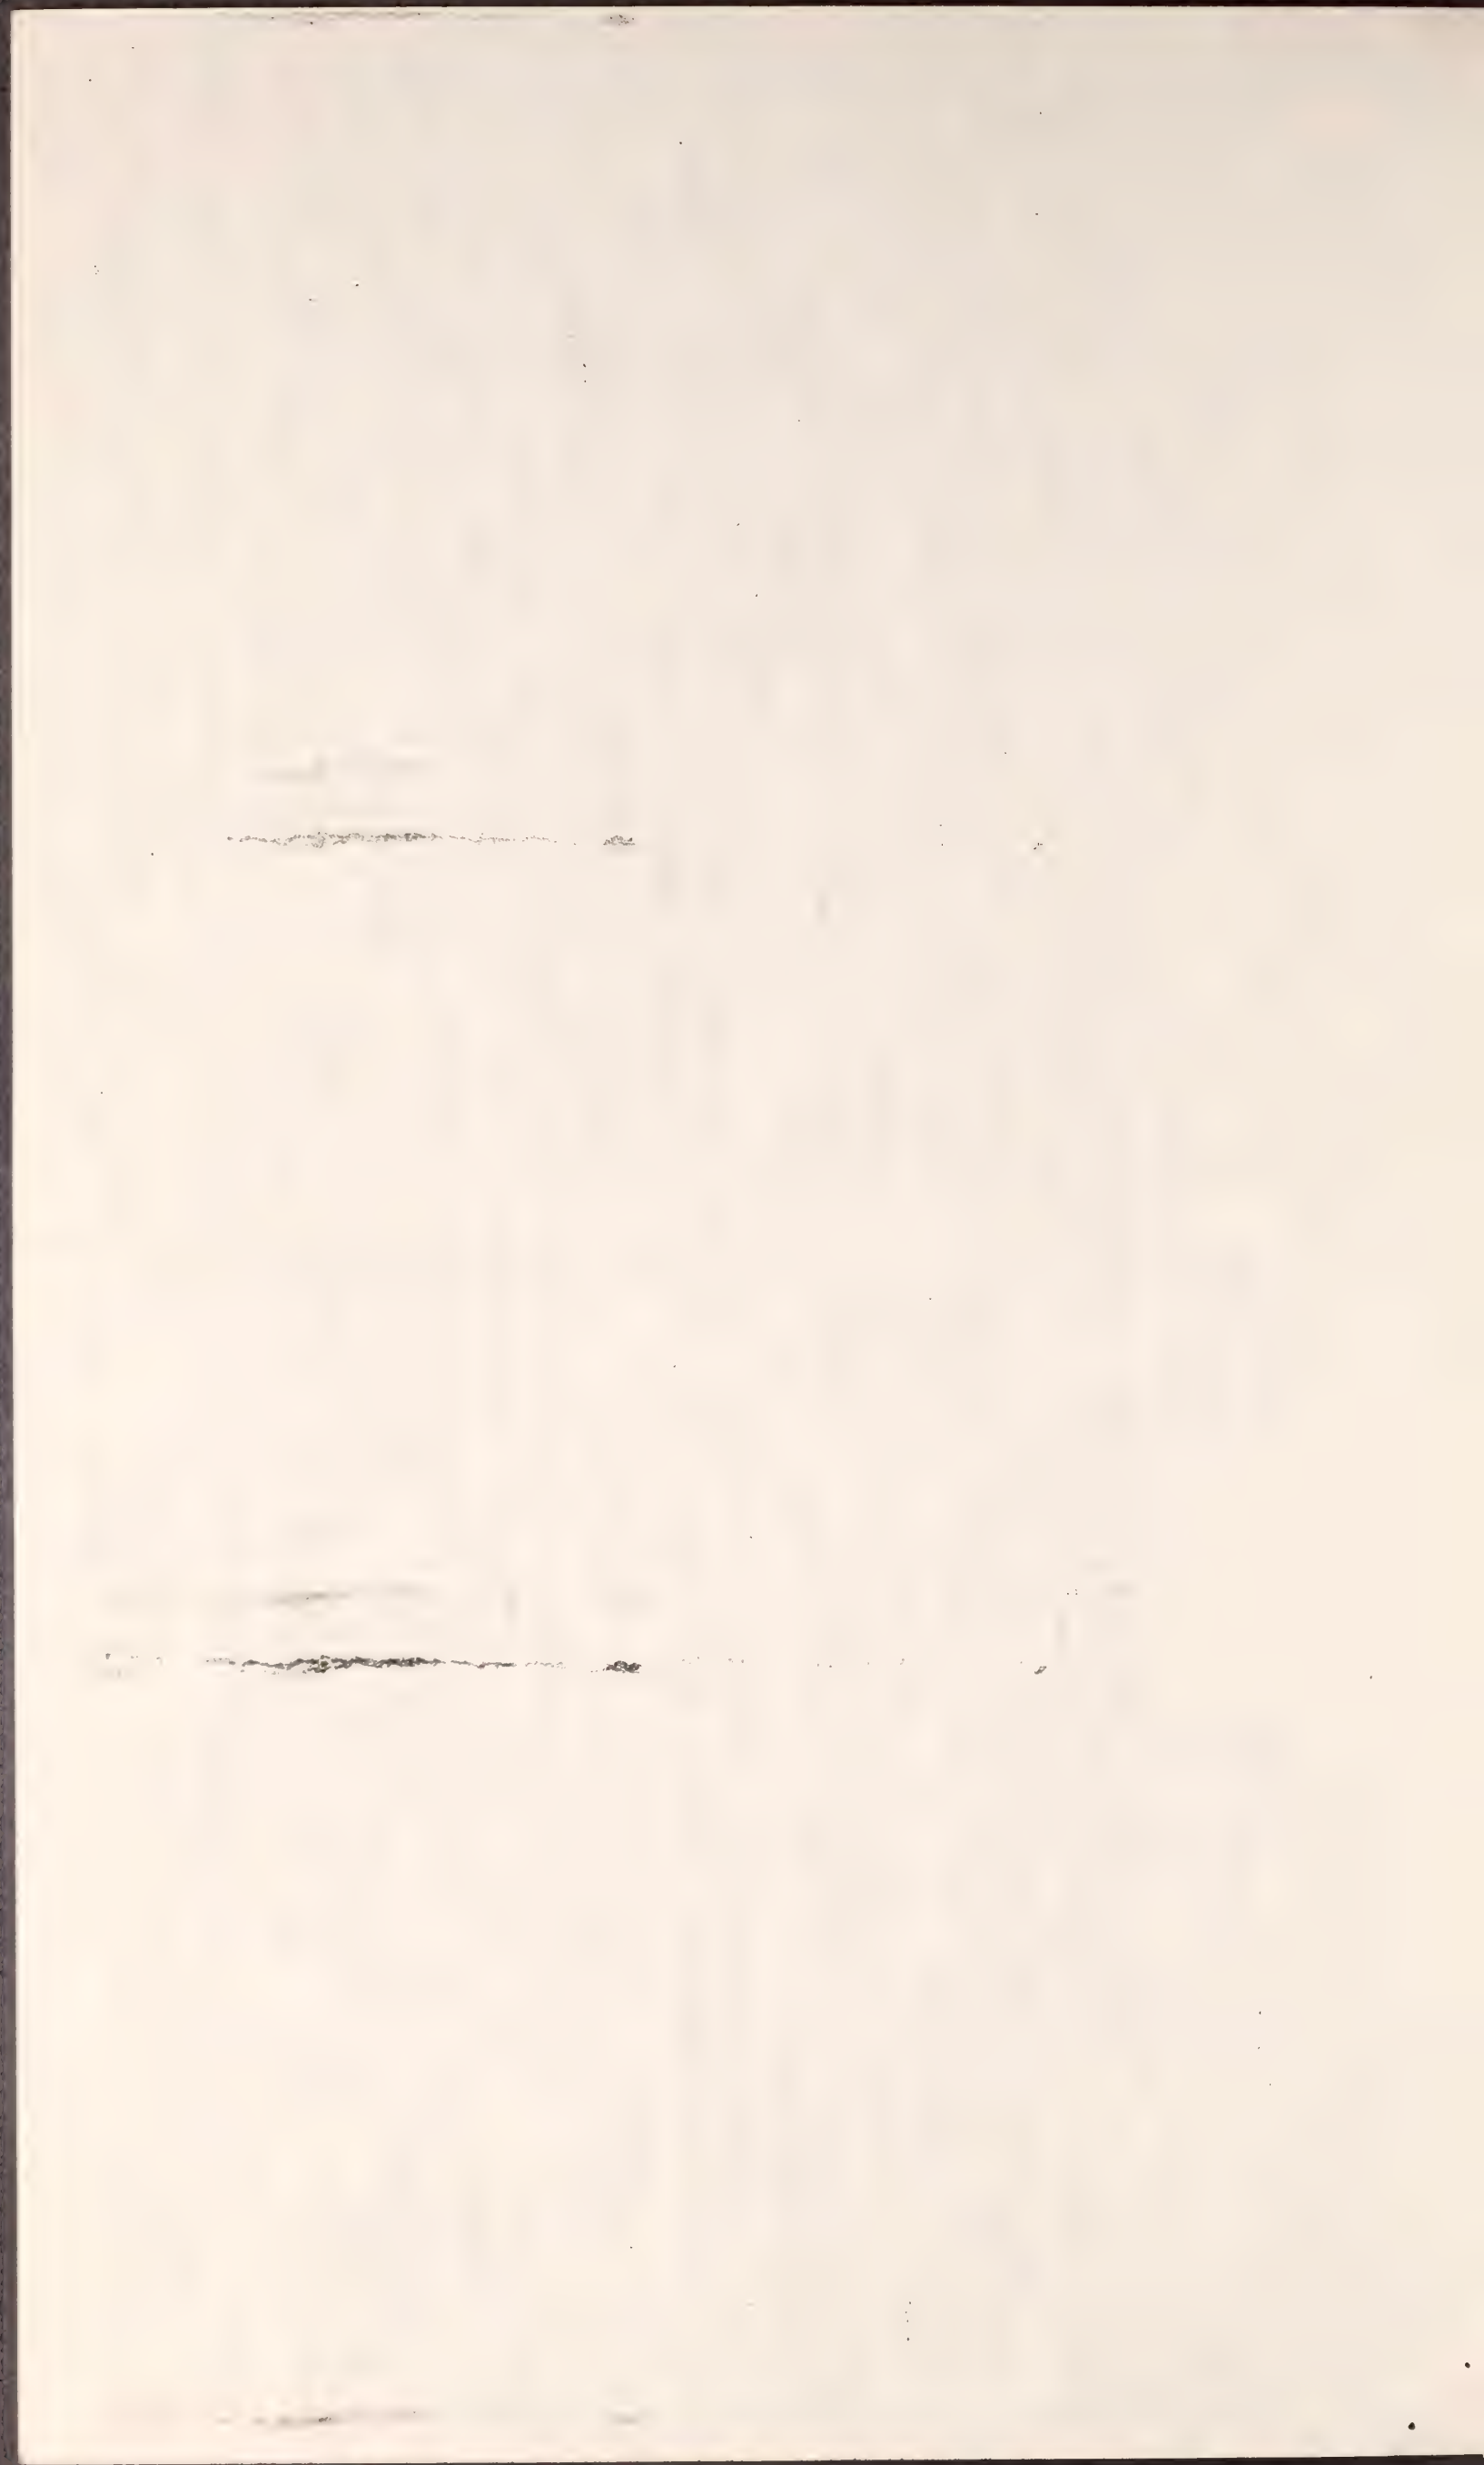

(the tables for William's first family of six will be circulated when more information obtained)

Some interesting sidelights re William are recorded in a letter written by Annie MacLean (family 15) and reproduced here in part Grandmother Hudgin, whose name was Esther Jchnstone, was born in the north of Ireland. Her mother's name was Gray and she claimed to be able to trace her pedigree to Marquis Henry Gray of Dorset, England, father of Lady Jane Grey. We have only the memory of her stories and do not value our historical background enough to remember important dates. We grandchildren knew her as a beautiful woman. Esther Johnstone's home was burned by Roman Catholics. While very young and in the homeland she married Mr. Marr. They decided to begin life in a new untry. Let us imagine the fond farewells, the earnest prayers, the final God Bless You and the last wave as they put out to sea on a voyage that might take six weeks or three months. When not far out, Mr. Marr was taken suddenly ill, dying after a few days. He was buried; sea. We pause to imagine the awful experience for a bride of 17 to take up her cross and follow on.

The romance of her second marriage to William Hudgin, the writer is unable to relate. One thing is certain, she was a brave woman to marry a widower with six small children. She was a kind step-mother and they loved her..."

George A. Hudgin (family VIII) adds some information on William U.E.L. "At one time, William was paymaster in the British Army at the War of Independence. Later, in action, attempting to avenge his brother John's death, he was wounded and his horse shot beneath him. He was imprisoned for 3½ years. He was released on exchange and removed to New Brunswick"

William's First Family - (Much information has yet to be collected on this branch of the Hudgin family)

FAMILY 3 - Ann (Saul Mouck)

FAMILY 4

Moses m Ann Mouck

Following his marriage to Esther Johnstone Marr, William raised a second family of eleven as follows:

7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17

William is mentioned in the book 'Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte' as follows:

"Edward Ackerman, born May 2, 1763, was a close friend of William Hudgin, a noted Loyalist, who, in the Revolution and again in the War of 1812, played a noble part. These two, while at Kingston, worked together at shoe-making, a business that allows much scope for conversation; and the old campaigner seems to have made of Edward a friend for life. At a later date the latter was a go-bet when Hudgin wished to correspond with a friend in New York City, and vice versa. In his wagon, a self-constituted rural postman, he conveyed the letters of these two friends between South Marysburgh and New York City."

One of these letters is still in the possession of the Hudgin family and reads as follows:

Dear William:

William McLaughlin
to William Hudgin

New York,
June 5, 1831.

I am at a loss for words to express the pleasing sensation I had on the receipt of your letter, for nothing affords me more pleasure than to find that you are well and doing well.

I was out to see Simcoe about three years ago. I found him well and knocking away at the old farm as usual. Everything I saw seemed to remind me of the days of our youth. During the three weeks when I was there I traced the woods, the river, the shores, even the spot where you and I have lain many a night during the season of salmon; but alas those days have passed away and never can return. At that time you and I knew but little of the troubles of this world. I find that you have had your misfortunes as well as myself. I was married in 1809 and in 1817 was so unfortunate as to lose my wife, leaving me with four small children to care for. I married again and in six years was left a widower again with the addition of three more children. I married again and thank God am tolerably good circumstances having by my industry accumulated a handsome little property in this city.

I feel much indebted to you for calling your eldest daughter after my dear deceased sister. She was a charming girl and beloved by all who knew her.

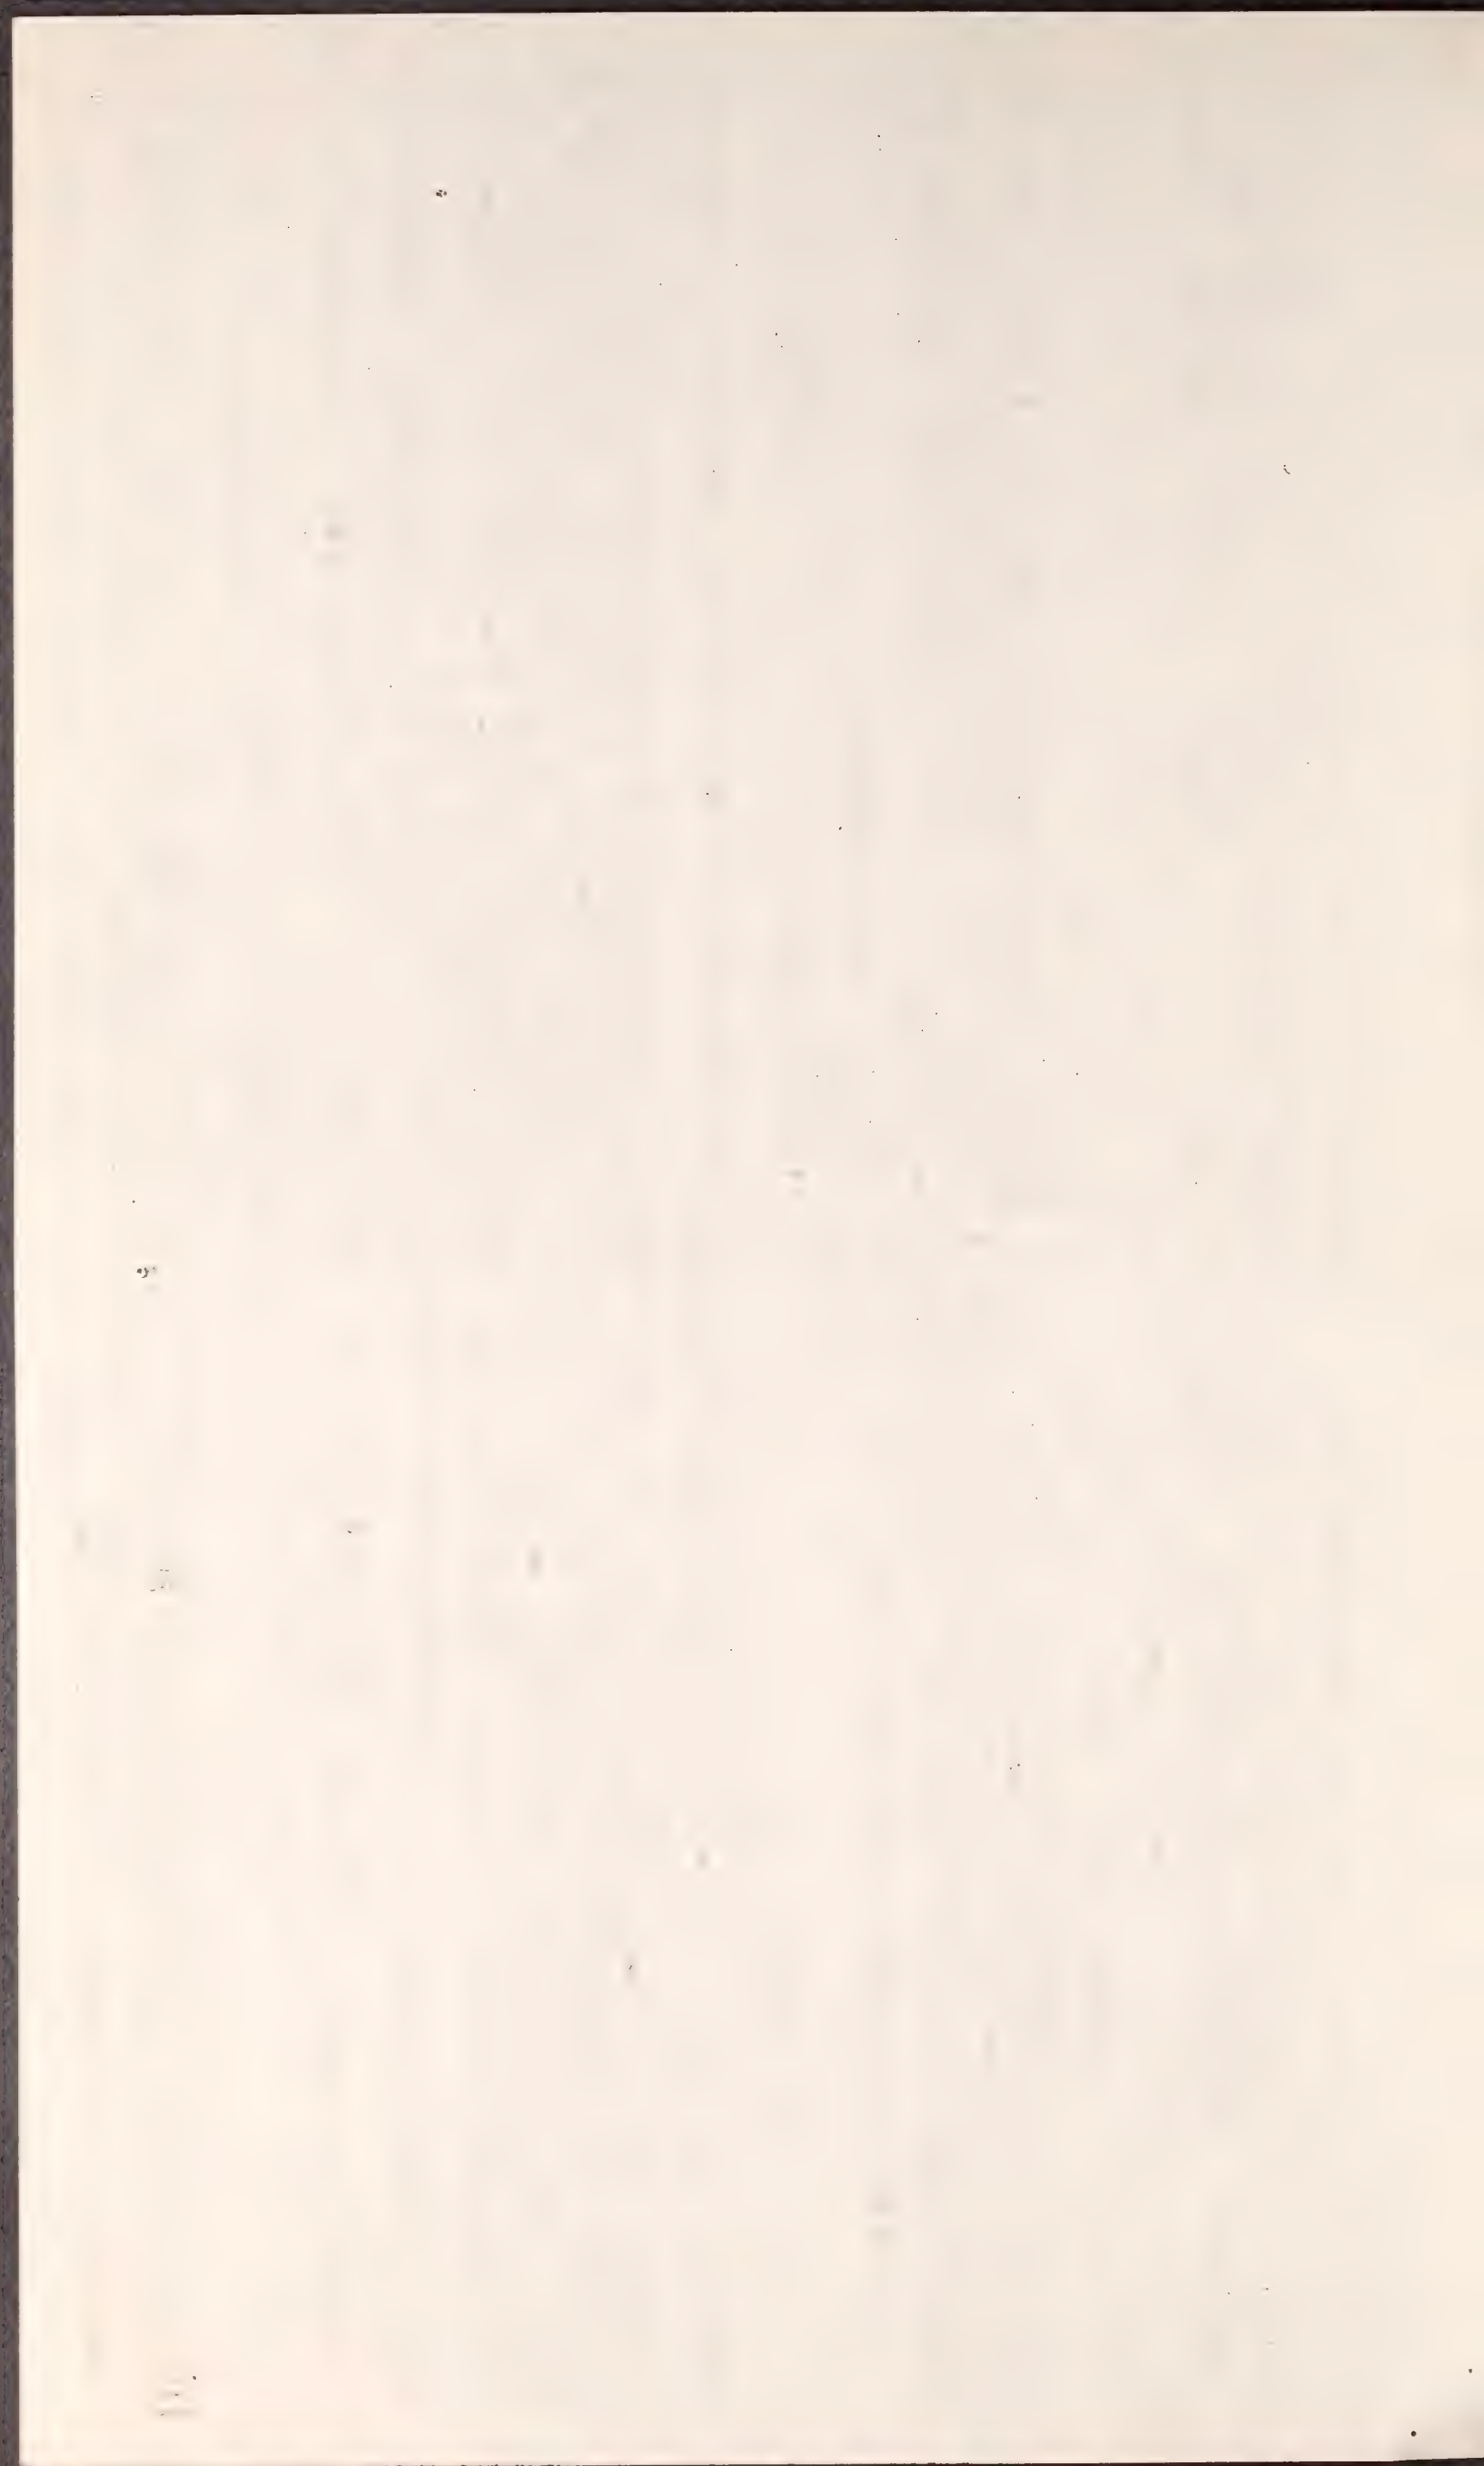

I wish I had more time to write you a lengthy letter but it is now past nine o'clock and Mr. Ackerman starts at ten o'clock, his departure being much sooner than I expected.

Be so good as to give my best respects to your brother James and family.

Wm. McLaughlin.

Three brothers of the above family, William Henry (7), James Louis (13) and George (15), died each leaving an only daughter. Actually James Louis died three months before his daughter was born. The remaining three brothers, Charles (9), Nelson (12) and Amos (1) became fast friends, being drawn together more closely perhaps because of the unfortunate loss of their brothers.

Three Annie Hudgins (daughters of Charles, James Louis and George) were known as Picton Annie, Belleville Annie and Kingston Annie.

Notes

At this date, March 1966, Lina Tripp is 93, confined to a nursing home in Cherry Valley. In 1960 Clarence Tripp was so unfortunate as to lose his large home by fire.

Amos Hudgin became a well-known Hostein breeder. On retirement he turned the farm over to his nephew, Clement Proctor, who at the time was Superintendent of North York Hydro Com. Clement still maintains some electrical interests leaving much of the dairy-farming to son Peter.

At this date, March 1966, Annie Hudgin Proctor, who accumulated most of this history, is 87 and living at Cherry Valley....

FAMILY 8

Hannah Hudgin (67) 1832-1899
(Hugh MacDonald)
infant died

Hannah Hudgin MacDonald was a school teacher at Wolfe Island. After husband Hugh and her infant son died, she built a home bordering a park in Kingston at 303 Alfred St. Here she accepted and partly raised Annie Hudgin (MacLean), family 15, whose parents died young and also Rosamond Hudgin (Storey), family 9, whose mother, Amanda Rose, died when she was an infant.

a letter written by Hannah MacDonald in 1898 to Annie Hudgin, family 9, is in the Hudgin Scrap Book. In one part of the letter Hannah offers some advice to Annie who is on the point of accepting a nursing position in Rochester. "I would not advise you to go without consulting your father and having his consent. You would feel happier if anything happened that you wanted to come home and it would be all right or if he should die while you were gone you would always be thankful there was no misunderstanding between you".

Mabel Hanes recalls an amusing story of her grandmother, Adaline, who was married at the same time as Nelson, Adaline's brother.

Shortly after the double wedding, Nelson and Archie left on sailing vessels so the brides, Jennie and Adaline, decided to live together. One day it was particularly dark and cloudy. They did not have a clock after having had breakfast, dinner and supper, they decided to visit neighbours. When they reached their friends' house, they found them just about to sit down to the noon meal.

In a letter to Annie Hudgin Proctor, Clara Robinson reminisces "Do you remember how we used to play 'Lost Heir'? Nobody here has heard of the game. I can see grandmother's kitchen so plain. The red oilcloth on the table, the lamp in the bracket on the wall, the stove with the big metal tank on the back, the pump and sink and old lounge and the old rocking chair and how she would boost us out of that when she was ready to sit down, her pan with the knitting and her pipe hid underneath so it would not show too much. And you coming up over the hill with your tam on sideways. It all comes back to me. Wish you and Amos could visit us now".

Amanda Norrington will be 94 in Jan. 1966 - living in Calgary

Cora Valleeu is thrilled that her sisters, Cecil Ann Keat and Clara Robinson will visit her this April /66. It is wonderful that these fine old ladies will travel from their home in Downey, California to once again visit their friends and relatives in Prince Edward County.

Admired and respected, Esther Hudgin was the esteemed matriarch of this family. We recall her attendance at the funeral of Amos T. Hudgin at a time when she was in her 95th year. Her faculties were bright and she required very little assistance in moving about.

FAMILY 12

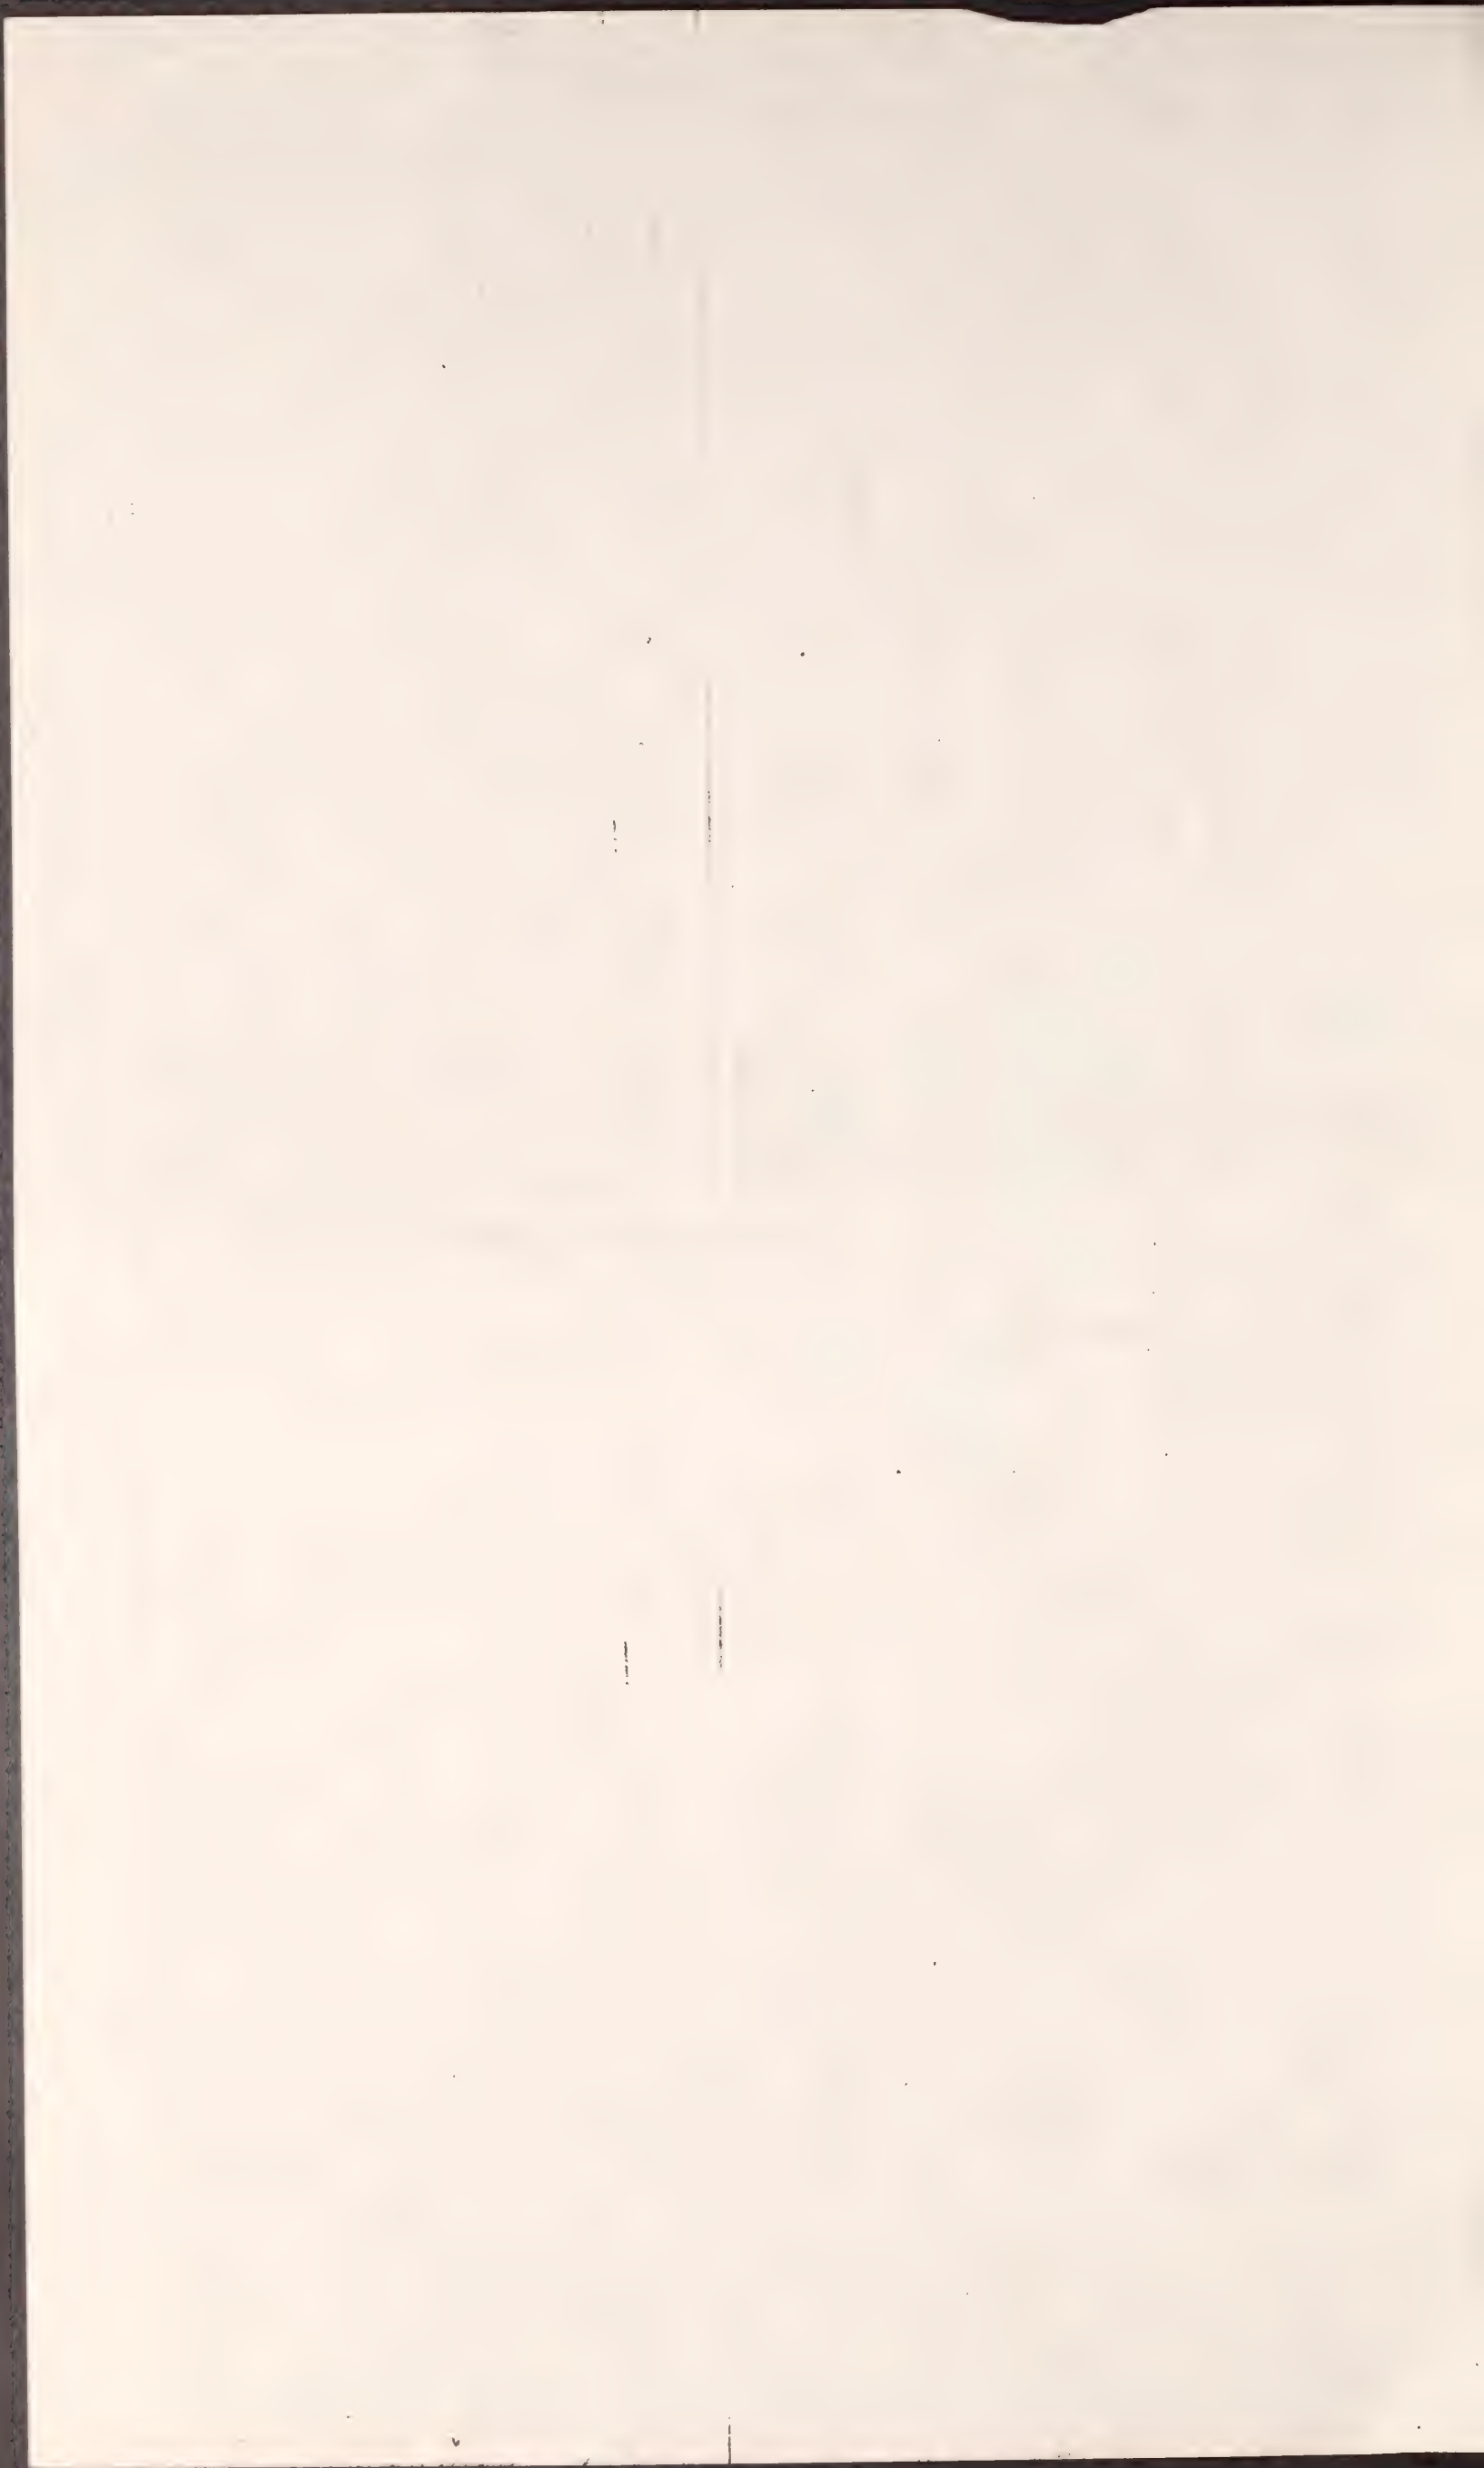

Capt. Nelson Hudgin (59) 1838-1898
 m Mary Jane (Jennie) Ellsworth (92) 1838-1930
 settled South Bay

The William (U.E.L.) property was inherited by William Jr. who, in turn, willed it to his three eldest sons, Moses and John (first family) and William Henry (second family). Nelson, who jokingly claimed to have inherited only the griddle, was the most ambitious. As a boy he would talk about the fast boat and fast horse he would own some day. Eventually he became captain and part owner of a passenger boat flying between Toronto and Montreal. Realizing his handicap in not understanding French, he mastered that language in his spare time. He bought the family farm from his three brothers and built a large brick house near the Bay. He constructed a race track on his farm and some of his horses, Goldie & Beethoven to name two, were prize-winners.

Annie Hudgin Proctor writes "I have never known anyone with a sweeter disposition than Aunt Jennie. She was the dearest of women. Their place was a second home for many of us and what a busy place it was --skating on the bay in winter and rowing in summer --riding horses (some forbidden). Nora and Nan were the most caring. Esther and May had hair so long they could sit on it. On Aunt Jennie's 75th birthday her grandchildren looked for a grey hair but could find none. She died at 92, saddened by the loss of son Jim and daughter May (Head)".

John Hubbs had a varied and interesting career. Born on the farm at Hillier, he was educated in Picton. He worked at the Fraser store for a while but soon followed his father, Charles to the West to Indian Head and Cupar. Here he was successful in the insurance and loan fields. He returned and bought a fine home in Picton. Here he joined the Church Bros. in the canning business, taking over the business on the death of Royal Church. From 1921 - 1930, John Hubbs represented the county in parliament. He also acted as Postmaster, served on the Town Council and local School Board and the United Methodist Church Board. He was a Mason.

The basic information of the Ezekial family was compiled by the late Lucile Hudgin, a school teacher, daughter of Moses. Lucile listed herself as an 'unclaimed treasure' Leonard G. Hudgin has assisted with some of the later information.

It is humorously noted that one of Aunt Patty's most influential accomplishments was in converting Ezekial from the Conservative Party to Liberal ranks...

As of December, 1968, these tables of Family 11 are as complete and accurate as we can make them. No doubt there are errors and omissions. If you know of any corrections, no matter how slight, please send them to us.

We have received some family sketches but need more. Will you write out what you can remember or what you have heard about your parents and grandparents - where they settled - what they did for a living - any accomplishments, adventures, stories, etc. Do not be modest.

The Hudgin scrap books are bulging with old letters, photographs and clippings. Anything of interest you can contribute to the history will be appreciated. These scrap books belong to you too and we are pleased to show them on request.

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

It was thoughtful of you to send me the literature on "The Loyalties of New Brunswick". I have since procured a copy and find it most interesting.

I thought you might be interested in my compilation of the Hedgier history to date. Would appreciate any suggestions you may have re my methods of procedure as I am a rank amateur in these matters.

*Yours truly,
C. L. Proctor*

Dear Relative:

Every passing year takes with it some of the links with the past. Unless steps are taken now to preserve and record what is presently known, the splendid history of our ancestors will become a dim memory.

As a self-appointed genealogist for the Hudgin family, am submitting a table containing as much information as can be gathered at the present time.

We hope with your approval and cooperation to expand and correct this table until it is completely accurate. Also, at a future date, we hope to assemble a Hudgin history composed of stories and facts of earlier times which are presently known.

You can help by notifying us of

1. any error in names, dates, order of birth, etc.
2. any omissions of names, dates, etc. (include names of any children who died in infancy)
3. any births and deaths as they occur
4. year of birth of all listed
5. year of death, if deceased, and cemetery, if known
6. full name of spouse(s)
7. addresses of all listed
8. any interesting facts or stories which have been passed down through your family

Dear Dr. Burling:

You may recall I have availed myself of your services in the past re my efforts to research the Hudgin family history.

In reading Wm. Canniff's "Settlement of Upper Canada", he makes reference to my great grandfather, William Hudgins, and my great, great grandfather, William Hudgins, on Page 104. He called them HOOGINS but this was corrected on the page of errata as was the year Wm. Hudgins left N.B. for Upper Canada, 1809 (not 1859). He gave credit for the Hudgins paragraphs to (Ashley), probably Wm. Ashley. Do you know if Ashley left any writings behind as I feel he may have amplified his references to our family —

The Ottawa archives record Wm.
Hudgins leaving N. B. in 1809 with 10 sons and 1 daughter. I can only record 7 sons and 1 daughter. Will spend some time in May tracing the missing three sons.

Sorry I did not have a chance to chat with you at the Quinze U.E.L. meeting when the 'Young' family was presented.

Am at above address for the winter. Will be home at 211 Burbank
Dr., Willowdale, Ont. after May 1.

Any help you can provide will be much appreciated Sincerely, Chas. Proctor
